❁ Front of Package Labeling (FOPL) ❁

FOPL Front of Package Labeling and Pratham Poshan Campaign in India- Participation of women's self-help groups Pratham Poshan is an important one. The aim of which is to create awareness among people about healthy diet. FOPL needs to be made known to NCDs in the top 10 states of India NCDs currently on the rise in India are new epidemics for all (such as diabetes, heart disease, obesity) In this project, how NCDs affect the human body regardless of socioeconomic status What causes An attempt is being made to provide this information in the said project. Many companies manufacture these foods in India and packaging of ready-made foods is required by law as well as nutrition facts serving size manufacturers are required to list the number of calories and amount of salt, sugar, high fat and other ingredients. But the said aspect is not written on the front side of the packing food and obviously the consumer does not know whether eating the said food is harmful or harmful for the body. And he buys and eats those things and many contagious diseases grow in his body. Women in self-help groups of the said project matters FOPL has organized the said program for women in self-help groups.
